

NUNU MINDADZE

THE REGIONAL FEATURES OF GEORGIAN FOLK MEDICINE

The Georgian population founded varied means of medical treatment during centuries. Traditional medical systems have been formed in separate parts of Georgian folk.

In the highlands of Georgia only folk surgery has reached a professional level. In the lowlandds there were also well developed folk therapeutics, gyneacology etc.

The distinctivity of medical culture in the different parts of Georgia was caused by several factors, among them are the intensity of spreading the deceases, geographic environments, peculiarity of population mode of life and their social-economic being.