

ROLAND TOPHCHISHVILI

ETHNIC COMPOSITION OF POPULATION IN GEORGIA

(General historical review)

The Georgian nation historically and also nowadays, consists the main part of the population of Georgia. In the different stages of history in Georgia there lived also representatives of the other ethnic groups: Hebrews, Greeks, Armenians, Turks, north Caucasians, Russians, Kurds, Europeans. The history of each ethnos' settlement in Georgia has been investigated. It is considered that the population of Georgia became especially varied in the late feudal period and in the XIX th century.