KITA ABASHIDZE ABOUT THE CONSPIRACY OF 1832

Kita Abashidze the famous public man of Georgia wrote a special research dedicated to such an important event in the country's history as the conspiracy of 1832. The work under the title "Political Romanticism" was published in "Moambe", a journal in 1905.

This was the first special research about the Georgian patriots of 1832 who had conspired with the aim to release Georgia from the claws of two-headed eagle of the Imperial Russia, and restore the Georgian state.

"Political Romanticism" was imbued with the pathos of the liberation of the Georgian people and discussed the controversial questions that evoked a lot of mutually contradicted views around the national problems between various political groups. The research sounded as the vivid protest against the people who opposed the idea of Georgia's national identity.
