“ANOTHER PATER NOSTER” BY AKAKI TSERETELI

Poetry reflects country's history and creates a picture of passions and thoughts that have bothered fellow Georgians for a long time.

Akaki Tsereteli's rhyme titled Another Pater Noster describes the period when religion and God were rejected and people had times of weak faith. Akaki decided to openly declare the truth even if persecuted. The above-mentioned literarywork is bothdelightful and saddening.

Lord's Prayer is the first thing Christians learn. However, some people have forgotten its purpose. They will never be free of brute instincts because they think of wrongdoing even while repeating the Lord's Prayer words. They seek happiness and the essence of prayer in the distress of others.They turn a deaf ear and their stagnant and impure mind fails to absorb positive thoughts. Thus, the poet is warning the society to avoid*uncleanliness reflected in the rhyme as they might ruin by gradually sinking into an abyss.*
