INFORMATION ON TEN WOMEN WARRIORS PUBLISHED BY LISTVERSE

An increasing role of women in the process of political and societal development is a typical feature of the modern world. It was facilitated by the feminist movement being flourished in the world's leading countries and especially in the United States of America in the 19th-20th centuries. However, the role of women in political relations was vital in the past as it is today. Throughout the world many influential women monarchs had a prominent role in national as well as international politics. Many of them became well known due to their wisdom, bravery and heroism.

Internet website "Listverse" published a list of ten women warriors of the world with the Georgian monarch – Queen Tamar topping the list. The proposed paper aims at presenting the very list of ten women.
